the songs we sang at GHS. A regular part of the pep rallies was the singing of the fight song and the school song. The pep squad, cheerleaders, and band backed the football team with songs. The students showed their patriotism by singing the National Anthem at the annual flag-raising ceremony. The Y-Teen members sang the Y-Teen song at each meeting and went caroling at the convalescent homes during the Christmas season. The foreign language students sang carols in the halls the day we got out for Christmas vacation. But the one song that was repeated over and over by the student body was the school Alma Mater.

Let our voices loudly ringing
Echo far and near,
Songs of praise thy children
singing
To thy memory dear.

the times we had this year. Remember when Keith Maxey broke his leg during a football game and then when he cut his own cast off himself. Remember the weekend when 'Ole Blue' was hoisted up the flag pole, and some mysterious people shuffled the books in the lockers. There were times we even got by with some things in the classrooms such as blowing bubbles and passing notes. Lunch was the time to get together with our friends and snowball fights were popular during the many snow storms we had. Y-Teens became a part of the girls' activities on Tuesday afternoon and the Halloween Carnival was one of the projects planned for the year. These memories and many more will remain in the minds of those who made them happen.

the Class of '77. The first class in the third century of our nation, the Class of '77 had their dreams. Just being a senior was a dream fulfilled for many class members. It meant less worries and more fun. It meant having special privileges that the underclassmen didn't have. It meant going to Casa Manana to view a production of HAMLET. For some seniors, it meant voting in the '76 Presidential elections. For every graduate of the Class of '77 it meant the end of twelve years of education and the beginning of something new and unforeseen.

the classes we worked in. Chemistry was a time for brewing special concoctions. Homemaking class gave the students a chance to cook and sew. In civics class the seniors learned about government and even registered to vote at the court house if they had reached their eighteenth birthday.

English III students wrote their first research paper.

The girls in PE learned to walk on the balance beam, and the students involved in the new leadership-training class worked on many projects. The band practiced during first period for football games and parades. These classes made this school year a special time to remember.

the games we played here. Remember the hours spent practicing, playing, or watching the football, basketball, golf, track, and volleyball teams. the senior play THE HOMECOMING and the junior play BELLES ON THEIR TOES. Monte Rogers and Susie Montgomery starred in THE HOMECOMING, a drama from which the TV series THE WALTONS was adapted. The play took place during The Depression and the action revolved around Spencers' Mountain. BELLES ON THEIR TOES, a sequel to CHEAPER BY THE DOZEN, was a comical account of a large family struggling to get by on the mother's limited income. It served as the major money-making project for the juniors and helped pay the cost of the Junior-Senior Banquet. Mr. Jack Cody, drama teacher, directed both plays.

the contests we competed in. The door-decorating contest, sponsored by the Student Council, involved the time and imagination of the students as each homeroom class competed for first place. The naming of Julie Kendrick as Homecoming Queen during the Sweetwater game highlighted the week-long homecoming activities. The six finalists selected in the All-American Girl Pageant performed their talent for the audience. The judges chose Cindy Atwood who represented the Future Homemakers of America, as the All-American Girl for 1976-1977. These contests, along with others, helped develop spirit and competition at GHS.

the friends we made here. Many happy times were shared between friends during school activities. Y-Teens helped the girls form closer ties. Memories that will be cherished forever were made during rehearsals for the class plays. Even studying together with friends helped make school work a little easier. The days were made better when we knew we had a friend we could rejoice with, "goof around" with, or when we knew we had a friend who would help us and lend us a hand.

Awards Program Honors Students

The awards program held on the last day of school is one of the most important assemblies of the year. During this assembly students who have excelled in academic courses or in extracurricular activities are honored. This year a number of awards had more than one winner because of tie scores. In addition to the individual awards, the school was presented a plaque by Mrs. Hartless on behalf of the Red River Regional Bloodmobile for participation in the Bloodmobile Campaign.

Lions Upset Steers Hopes

The Lions' victory over the Steers was a significant upset, as the Steers were favored to win. The game was played in a packed stadium, and the Lions' fans were cheering loudly. The Lions' quarterback, John Smith, was the star of the game, throwing for 250 yards and three touchdowns. The Steers' defense was unable to contain the Lions' offense, and the Lions were able to score in the first, second, and fourth quarters. The final score was 28-14 in favor of the Lions.

The Lions' victory was a morale booster for the team and their fans. It showed that the Lions were capable of competing with the top teams in the league. The Steers' fans were disappointed, but they will have to wait until next season to see if they can turn things around.

Coaches Lead Steers

It turned out to be a see-saw defensive battle in the game with Mineral Wells Rams but the Roos overcame the Steers resistance by scoring four touchdowns. Graham's tallies came early in the first quarter and late in the fourth. The final score was 14-

Varsity Wins Many Honors

Ribbons, medals, and trophies were handed out freely to the varsity track team this year. Led by Coach Frank Riney, the Steers never took less than a first or second place trophy in pre-district track meets. But a fatal blow arrived at district: a disqualification in the mile run resulted in a third place trophy.

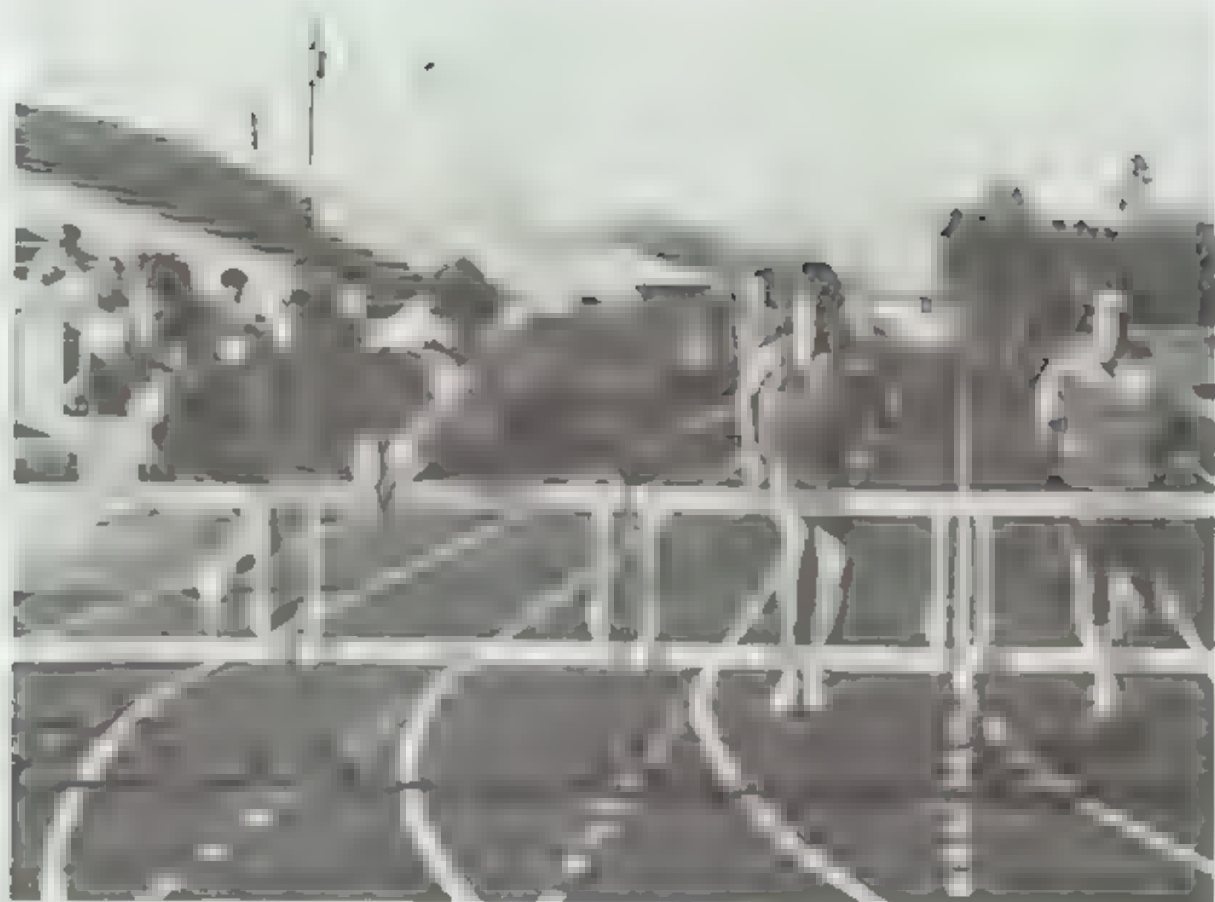

Individual accomplishments were achieved by Norman Grimes who broke the District 4-AAA record in the pole vault and also established a new school record; Terry Zordel who won first in the 330 intermediate hurdles, and Lenwood Bates who placed second in the 440. They all advanced to the regional meet in Denton.

Fish Practice Pays Off

For the freshman team, the district meet proved that hard work pays off. The freshmen attended five tournaments. During the district meet Bobby McCool took a blue ribbon in the 330 hurdles, fourth place in the 120 hurdles, and second in the pole vaulting competition. Others placing were Ricky Bone, fourth in the 440 run, Kyle Heame, sixth in the high jump, and Sam Sumpter, fourth in the shot put. PK Relays Are Successful

A combination of good weather, a new track, and Graham's winning second place in Division III made the PK Relays a success. Although there were 30 teams competing, Graham was able to take top honors in many events. Among the winners were Chris Williams who cleared 6 feet 2 inches in the high jump, and the mile relay team, Terry Zordell, Norman Grimes, James Sedberry, and

Band Lettermen

Band Gets New Uniforms

For the first time in thirteen years, the GHS bandmen performed their routines on the field in new uniforms. The bright blue uniforms arrived in time for the Brownwood and Iowa Park games.

Another first was that letter jackets were earned by underclassmen, but getting one was not easy. Only three bandmen accomplished all the requirements during the year.

The band's annual musical was a "Salute to Disney." Although copyright laws limited the stage props, the band's selections reminded the audience of the many Disney characters.

the banquets we attended. The Y-Teens' banquet was first with the girls honoring their mothers with a dinner and a style show. The Quarterback Club hosted the GHS athletes and their dates at the All-Sports Banquet. The band students and their dates danced and dined at Woodland and the VICA and DECA students entertained their employers with a banquet. The presentation of achievement awards and the announcement of next year's officers highlighted the last banquet which was given by the FFA.

the time the juniors and seniors climbed "The Stairway to Heaven." After many long hours of work the juniors successfully hosted a star-studded banquet. The Graham Country Club took on a heaven-like atmosphere with thousands of stars, honecomb globes, and angel hair decorations. After dinner and entertainment the couples moved to the T-Hut for a dance featuring the disc-jockey Bumpin' Butch.

a. Juniors, Julie Braddock, Jennifer Bell and Lori Jennings work long hours after school on last minute banquet preparations. b. Entertaining the juniors, seniors, and guests, Mr. Kyle Ellison sings the old favorite "Lazy River". c. Taking careful steps, Rowley Jones and Rhonda Schnuelle cross over the stairway to Heaven. d. Jan Harvey and Kelly Williams listen attentively to Charles Hall's welcome. e. Couples dance to the lively music of Bumpin' Butch. f. Diana Redden and Greg Fitzgerald pause for a quiet moment away from the dance. g. The fun comes to an end the morning after when the juniors have to clean up the country club.

the elections and SENIOR MEMORIES that marked the end of the year. Elections signalled the closing of one year and the beginning of a new year. The last weeks of March set the pace for the remainder of the year with cheerleader tryouts and the election of the student body president.

After these major elections other clubs began electing new officers. The Y-Teens revealed their officers during the sunrise service at Glen Rose.

The Thespians presented the traditional SENIOR MEMORIES program. The seniors told of their most memorable experiences in Graham High School, both good and bad, and said their good-byes.

a. The cheerleaders for '77-'78 are Jackie Tate, Janet Brown, Penny Shepherd, Debbie Williams, Sandy Miller, Lori Jennings, and Jennie Johnson. b. When the votes were tallied over the phone, the Y-Teens were announced during the Glen Rose overnight trip. c. The '77-'78 Y-Teen officers were announced during the Glen Rose overnight trip. d. After the votes were tallied, Charles Hall became the '77-'78 student body president. e. Neta Williams was elected as the '77-'78 candidate for Student Body President. f. "I don't want to be a Y-Teen, I wouldn't," reads Lisa. g. During the SENIOR MEMORIES program, the seniors celebrities are presented to the students. h. Seated next to him four seniors remember their high school days.

the final moments as Graham High School students. Although the Class of 1977 didn't graduate until late May, preparation began early with the ordering of announcements and caps and gowns. When the graduates walked across the stage, they were filled with mixed emotions. But it was evident that the nervousness and sadness was gone as the graduates yelled and threw their scrolls after the singing of the Alma Mater. As each graduate filed out of Memorial Auditorium he entered a new life with new goals.

The Hope Of 77

The Class of Seventy Seven has its dreams

With all there is to live for

And with all there is to give for

We're bursting at the seams

To find the day when we may say,

"We're STEERS, and that's not bad!"

For all of us are glad

To give our all and make the call

That only time can change.

The Class of Seventy Seven has its dreams

To turn the world around

And make a happy sound

That pleases you and me,

As it was meant to be.

For all we never got the chance

To play and sing and dance

To the tune of a different song,

That makes all others long

For what we have, it seems

The hope of Seventy Seven

Shall not be taken lightly,

And though it's not been promised,

It's ours to make, and rightly

Made so by a dream.

this year as a year filled with songs, games, friends, contests, and good times. The STEER staff has tried to record in story and pictures the times spent during this school year.

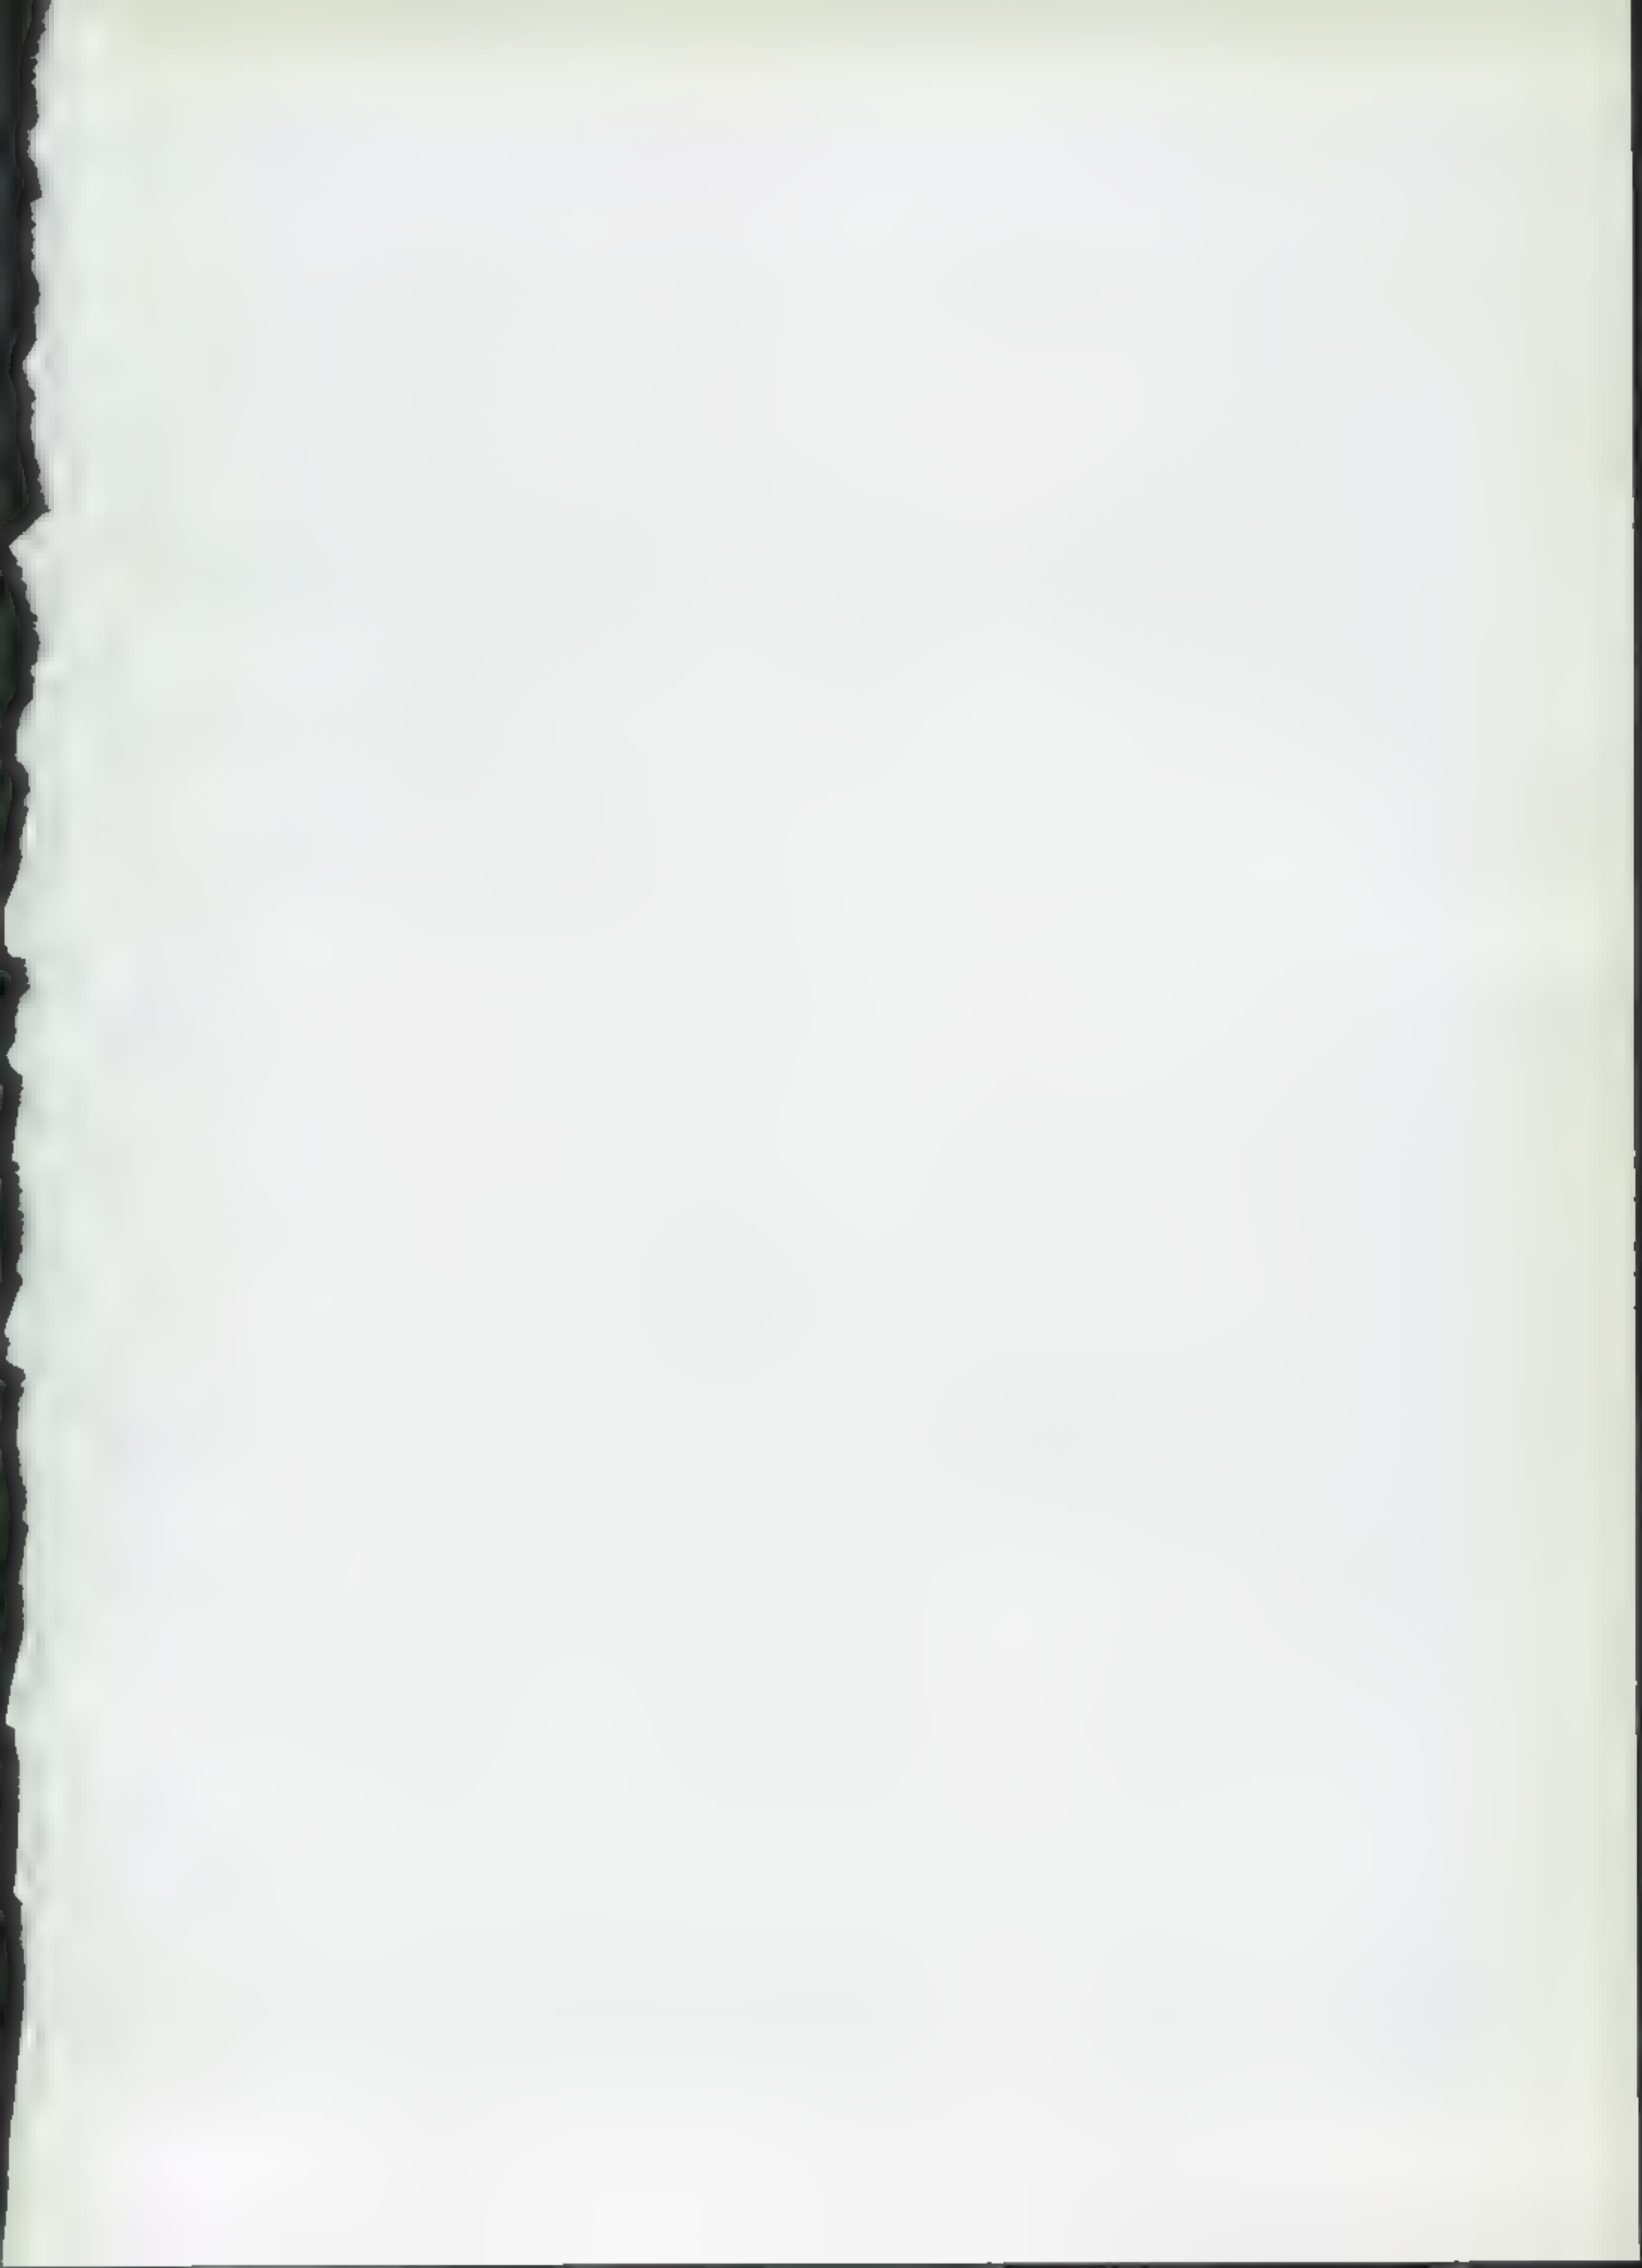

This is not a detailed history from lollipop days to graduation but rather a résumé of the 1976-1977 school year. It is our hope that these recorded memories will remain with you forever.
